

Cultural Daily

Independent Voices, New Perspectives

Aidan Wood: “Great Wall of LA”

Aidan Wood · Wednesday, January 8th, 2020

Great Wall of LA

Centuries past,
We forget our history is so vast
So much heritage has been amassed

Written in stone,
We were never alone,
Our history has been sown
Who could have known
We were never alone

Our history is not a mystery
We are connected by our life history
Our damages
Our advantages
Our bandages

Wounds don't disappear
They're still here
Shown without fear
Instead of whispered in our ear

Triumphs
Intermixed in our tears
Our history appears

Genocides
Divides
Prides

Independence
Amendments

This entry was posted on Wednesday, January 8th, 2020 at 5:28 pm and is filed under Poetry
You can follow any responses to this entry through the Comments \(RSS\) feed. You can skip to the end and leave a response. Pinging is currently not allowed.