How Online Casinos Have Changed Over the Years

Our Friends · Monday, March 29th, 2021

The online world is changing faster than any of us can keep up, and online casino is no exception. Every week, something new happens, whether it's a new brand launching, a game release or an exclusive bonus. There's always something to keep your eye out for, and it's becoming more exciting than ever before.

This article looks at exactly how online casinos have changed over the past few years and what it means for players. We also make a few predictions about what we see happening next in the industry.

More Ways to Pay

When online casinos first launched, there were very few ways to pay. Visa, Mastercard and sometimes bank transfers were accepted. Processing was slow, and deposits took hours to process and withdrawals up to weeks. Because of this, it was better to play at land-based casinos so that you could get your money faster.

Fast-forward to 2021, and things have changed considerably. Not only is there now a long list of accepted payment methods available, but deposits and withdrawals are now significantly faster. Some of the most impressive changes have happened in the Finnish market, where you can play without even registering, known as 'Kasinot ilman rekisteröitymistä' in Finnish.

Regular Bonuses

Online casino bonuses are now the most important thing amongst players. We are all seeking the biggest and best offers, with the highest chances of winning. It used to be incredibly difficult to find such bonuses, but the creation of casino news sites made it much more manageable. All a player now has to do is visit one of these sites to find out about the latest offers.

These bonuses can range from deposit matches to free spins, cashback and many more. They tend to come as welcome packages for new players, including a combination of all these great offers to entice players through the door. You now have the luxury of shopping around and finding your favourite before playing.

Gaming on the Go

There used to be a handful of games to choose from, all of which were only available on your desktop computer. Now, there are thousands of slots and casino games to choose from across hundreds of software providers.

As well as more choice than before, these fantastic games can now be played across all devices, wherever you are. That means real-time spinning on your mobile or tablet, on the train, on the bus, or at home. This brings a lot of flexibility and allows the fun to go with you wherever you want, which wasn't always an option.

What's Next?

Live casino and virtual reality gaming are some of the newest trends for 2021 in the online casino world. We also expect to see a broader range of payment methods available worldwide, more games, more bonuses and a whole load of perks for players.

As the market becomes increasingly competitive across brands, it's never been a better time to be a player. You should take advantage of everything that is being offered to you.
