Cultural Daily

Independent Voices, New Perspectives

Summer Blockbusters — Some Are Not

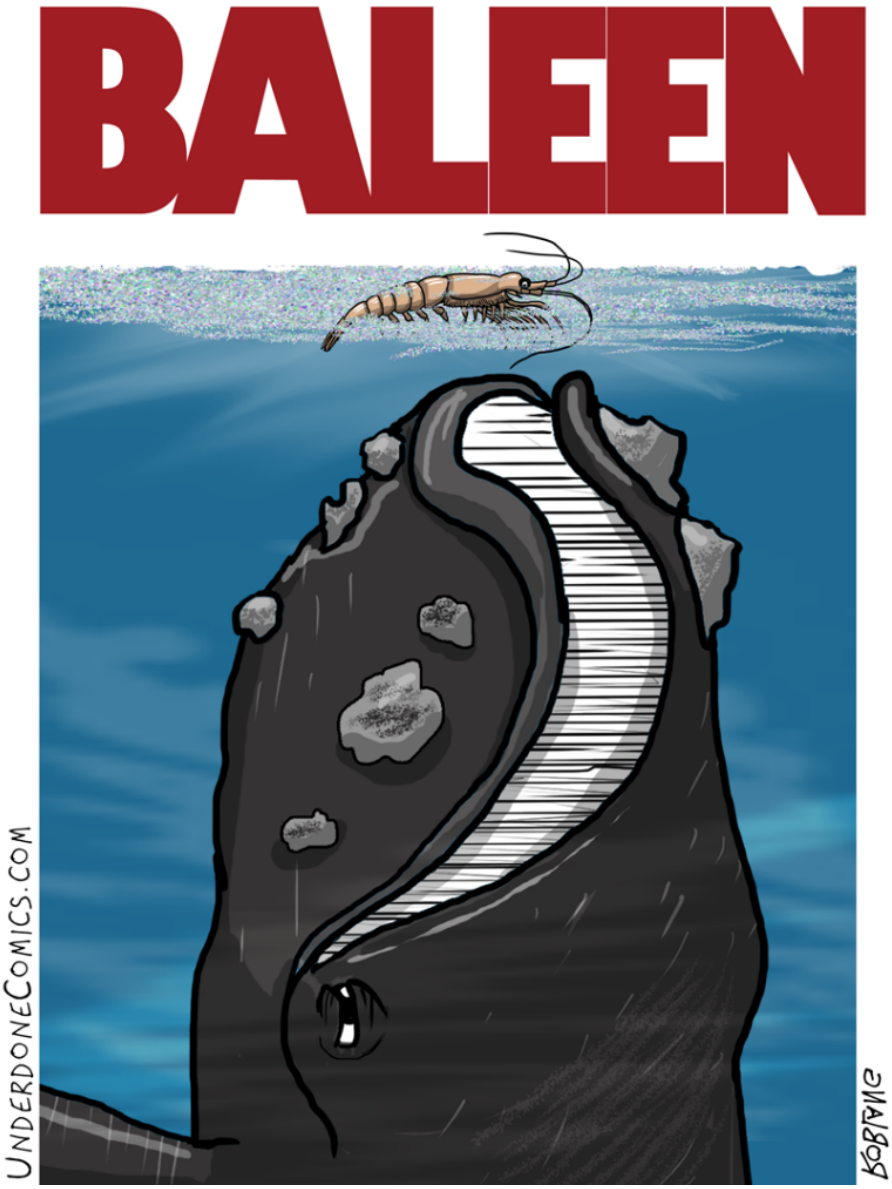
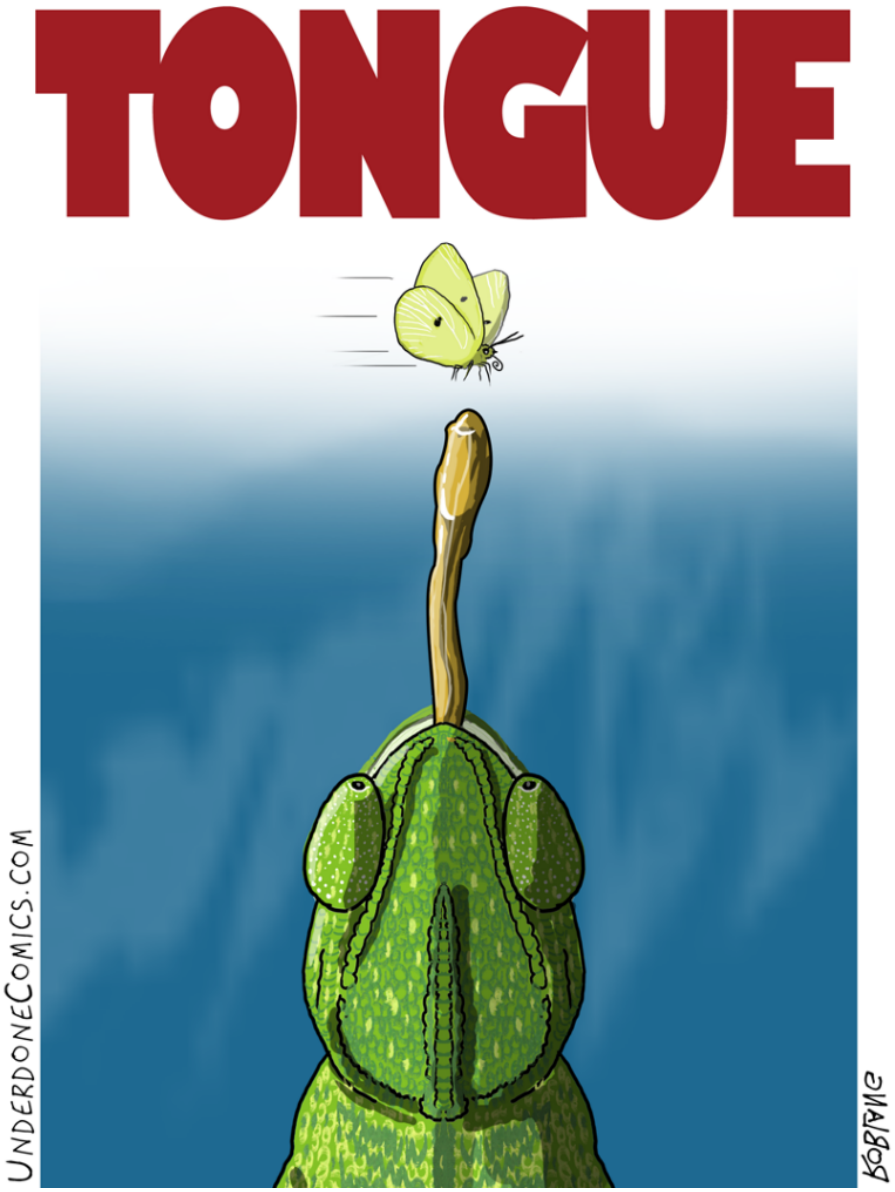
Rob Lang · Wednesday, May 31st, 2017

The end of May marks the unofficial start of summer, and the unofficial start of summer marks the official start of the summer blockbusters movie season. Perhaps the most classic summer blockbuster ever was JAWS—the film which nearly single-handedly destroyed an entire group of important apex animals. Imagine how the last 42 years would have been if the movie wasn't about sharks. What if they were about these creatures?



Just when you thought it was safe to swarm in the water…



Just when you thought it was safe to flutter in the forest…

Just when you thought it was safe to be a goatfish… The cone snail lurks on the sea floor sniffing out fish. When it finds one, it launches a venomous harpoon-like tooth, reels in the fish and swallows it whole.

Enjoy your summer!

[alert type=alert-white ]Please consider making a tax-deductible donation now so we can keep publishing strong creative voices.[/alert]

This entry was posted on Wednesday, May 31st, 2017 at 8:20 pm and is filed under Comics
You can follow any responses to this entry through the Comments (RSS) feed. You can skip to the end and leave a response. Pinging is currently not allowed.