Winter Outfits Every Man Needs

Our Friends · Monday, December 27th, 2021

When it gets cold outside, a man's outfit needs to be warm and stylish. There are plenty of ways to stay cozy and comfortable this winter. The good news is that your outfit choices can also be trendsetting and fashionable. The following winter outfits are timeless and expected to turn heads. Find these essential pieces in your closet to create the perfect men's outfit for winter.

Bomber Jacket with Denim

Winter weather requires plenty of warm and durable layers. A stylish, head-turning jacket is the perfect piece to elevate a casual men's outfit into something cozy and fashionable. Begin with a basic tee in a classic color like a long sleeve crew neck or a short sleeve Henley. Once you have your first layer picked, you can add more style and insulation to your look.

Try wearing a jean jacket on top of your tee. Include even more warmth with a bold, reversible bomber jacket. Complete the ensemble with dark denim or wear a pair of grey pants. Finish with accessories and footwear like square sunglasses and a pair of boots.

Pullover Hoodie with Layered Coats

Pullover hoodies are on-trend and super comfortable. They also look good with all of your favorite cozy layers for men. Choose a short sleeve crew neck or a long sleeve pullover in a neutral color. Next, add a grey or black pullover hoodie on top. Include two more layers, including a trucker jacket and a trench coat.

This dramatic and appealing contrast in length and texture is sure to turn heads. Choices in comfortable materials and fabric will keep you feeling confident all day. Finish with trousers or joggers for a casual yet trendsetting look.

Cozy Sweater with Jeans

Winter is an ideal time for wearing cozy and soft men's sweaters. A knit cardigan in a neutral color like black or navy is an excellent foundational piece. It also sets the tone for a smart outfit designed for cooler weather.

Make this look with a short sleeve or long sleeve crew neck, and then add the sweater on top. Keep it simple yet sophisticated with fitted denim jeans. Complete your outfit with a watch or a necklace in a cool color like brown or silver. Avoid the urge to over-accessorize, which will take away from the outfit's timeless simplicity.

Denim & Flannel with Vest

You will feel at home in the great outdoors with a combination of denim and flannel. Created with timeless and foundational pieces like a plaid collared shirt or collared flannel, this rustic look is perfect for adventuring or spending time in nature. It is also an excellent choice for road trips and vacations. Start with your favorite button-up in a material that works best for your weather.

Wear a light wash jean jacket over the shirt, and then top that with a vest in a color like brown or khaki. Dark green and navy also look polished and put together. Finish the look with a ball cap and a pair of boots or sneakers.

Long Sleeve Crew Neck with a Jacket & Scarf

Different textures will add dimension and intrigue to a casual look. The thicker, cozier layers are also sure to add seasonal personality for winter. A long sleeve crew neck shirt in a color like light blue or green will create an attractive foundation for neutral pieces and basics in the same color family. Add a bomber jacket or a trucker jacket in a complementary shade, and then include a scarf on top.

Wear a belt and a light-colored pair of pants. Grey jeans, khakis, and light brown trousers are all excellent choices for this effortlessly stylish outfit. Finish the look with minimalist accessories like a classic black belt with silver hardware. Footwear like Oxfords or suede Chukkas goes well with this ensemble. Alternatives include leather boots and Chelsea boots.

Zip-Up Hoodie with Jeans or Trousers

If you are looking to feel warm and relaxed while looking stylish, a classic grey zip-up hoodie is your go-to garment. Zip-up hoodies are not only one of the most dynamic and popular clothing items for men, but they are also perfect for winter weather. Some of them are insulated with cotton and cotton-poly blends, which makes them ideal for layering with coats and jackets. There are also warmer fleece hoodies, which are nice for wearing in chilly weather.

Wear your zip-up with a pullover or crew neck underneath. These hoodies are so versatile that you can wear them with almost any bottoms. Jeans and trousers are among the most attractive and fashionable options. You can also wear them with joggers and cargo pants.

A neutral-colored hoodie allows you to get more creative with the color of your pants. Grey and white hoodies complement dark-colored pants and tracksuits. They also work well with tech pants and a variety of drawstring trousers. Finish your zip-up look with sneakers and minimalist accessories like a watch or a pair of round sunglasses.

Design Your Men's Winter Style

A man's winter style is unique from any other season. Thankfully, it is easy to stay warm while looking fresh. The same sharp and timeless basics you already like to wear can easily translate to fashionable outfits for cold weather. Plan your winter wardrobe now so you are set for the entire season. Start by shopping for a new set of crew necks and long sleeve pullovers for that essential first layer. Hoodies and jackets will help to elevate your casual pieces, while denim and stylish pants will complete any winter look.

While your colors and accessories may vary from the next guy, the important part is that you invest in the classic garments that you need to complete your winter wardrobe. Cozy first layers and outerwear keep you feeling warm and confident. By choosing quality fits and styles, you will have pieces that you can wear for seasons to come. It will also be easier than ever to create a trendsetting outfit for any occasion.
